

Modern Slavery Statements

How to check the quality of a Modern Slavery Statement:

Under the new stricter measures (2019) set out by the government in Section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act, companies now must disclose:

- The structure and nature of the organisation;
- Internal policies in place regarding slavery and human trafficking;
- Due diligence processes currently in place;
- How particular areas of risk in the business and supply chains are identified and the steps that are taken to mitigate these risks;
- The organisation's effectiveness in ensuring that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in its business or supply chains, which can be measured against any performance indicators as the organisation considers appropriate;
- The training and resources available to staff in the organisation regarding slavery and human trafficking.

To review the independent review on the Modern Slavery Act (2019), click here.

There are also other countries with Modern Slavery Acts:

- The Australian Federal Modern Slavery Act
- The California Transparency in Supply Chains Act
- Section 307 of the Tariff Act of 1930 \(US\)
- France's Due Diligence Act \(„Loi sur le devoir de vigilance“\)

Check out other broader legislation here

Here is a good public sector example from UNICEF UK